Somebody was Wrong. Senator Sherman is the latest of our public men to make the discovery that there are very serious difficulties in the way of any attempt to make it appear that both sides were right and equally patriotic and praiseworthy in the war carried on for four years between a rebellion seeking in ulerest of human slavery to destroy the I nited States as a Nation, and the Nation itself engaged in defending "government of the people, by the people and for the people" against the bloody assaults of The Senator made a speech at Nashville, Tenn., in which he administered tuffy to the Confederates so freely that all the Democratic organs in the country quoted and praised it, and in the last issue of the Century it is cited to sustain Lord Wolseley's, claim that Robert E. Lee was a great "American hero." Since then senator Sherman has made a speech to the Republicans of the I linois Legislature, taking ground so strongly that the Union cause was righteout, that the same Demoeratic papers are berating him for "waving the bloody shift" and accusing him of having different speeches for different latitudes. It is a curious chance that causes the Senator's Southern speech to be quoted in support of Wolfeley's silly laudation of Lee Yas the noblest figure on gle, at the very time when loyal men are reading with so much satisfaction the powerful and conclusive article by GENERAL WILLIAM—I. SHERMAN, published in the latest issue of the North indicates the pre-eminence of shallowness of the Englishman's plea and splendidly vindicates the pre-eminence of Grant as a soldier, and most tellingly contrasts the recreancy of Robert E. Agentious report was current yesterday to the offect that at a meeting of the Directors of the Bangor & Piscatuquis Railroad Company on Saturday afternoop, a resolution was introduced, and after a somewhat varue discussion, passed, authorizing the appointment of a compilture to solicit a urchaser of the road.

Although this report was made with such positiveness by our informant, we find it difficult to believe that the B. & P. Digectors could have taken such action, in view of the fact that the latest public exunnimous passage on May 24th, of very comphatic resolutions authorizing and re-Auesting the Directors, who represent the rity, to secure a lease of the Penobscot t'ent al Railroad as soon as completed to he operated in connection with the B. & P. This pertainly gave no indication of any desire to have the city's valuable interest a the existing line hawked about for a purchaser, and even if there were any urgent desire to part with the ownership and control of the road it would seem any thing but good policy to indicate such eagerness to dispose of it. The important fact that the City Government has authorized no such action renders it the more difficult for us to credit the report men-

The Late Ex-Vice Presid Wheeler.

The announcement of the death of Hon. Killiam A. Wheeler in our telegraphic rolunces this morning while causing a widespread feeling of tegret will occasion no surprise, for since his illness assumed a critical form some days ago his death has beed momentarily expected. The deceased heen momentarily expected. The necessed was a man of upright character and sincerity of purpose and in whatever position of trust he had been called by the people has ever enjoyed their unbounded. confidence and he died as he lived, rich is the esteem of his fellow citizens. Mr. Blaine's New Book.

"POLITICAL DISCUSSIONS, LEGISLATIVE, DIFLOMATIC AND POPUEAR." We have received from The Henry Bill Publishing Company of Norwich, Conq. a copy of the new volume under the above title, in which are gathered some of the most interesting and important of the public speeches and papers of the Hox. JAMES G. BLAINE. The selections from his utterances cover the most exciting and nemarkable period in the his ory of our country, and they show how promident and influential a part was taken by Mr. · Blaine in the public affairs of the time. To the student of political histor, this cornpilation will be most welcome and value able, as it presents the views expressed at the time upon the most serious national and international questions by one who has been a leader in political thought and action through all the period of the war, reconstruction and recuperation of the ma-, either side of our great national strug-tional credit and prosperity. A prefator,

The volume begins with a speech delivto his oath and allegiance to the flag of the course begins with a speech delivered at I. tohie d, Maine June 28th, 1856. to his outh and allegance to the diagnot on his return as, a delegate from the Re-his country, and won imperishable rendwn on his return as, a delegate from the Re-his his achievements in defence of both publican National Convention at Philadel-On the whole, Republicans at Irast; will phia. In this speech Mr. Blaine set forth most powerfully the time and principles ontinue to recognize that it is somewhat, of the Bepublican party then extering upon its first national campaign with the names wrong and that no amount of soft speech of Fremont and Daytop on its binner, factor of belange furdamental principles as he foreshadowed and favored, the nombitto render the murilerous assault upon our tion of Hannibal Hamlin as the Republican country's flag and institutions as honorable candidate for Governor which soon after resulted in the remarkable campaign and triumph of the loyal people in defence of sweeping victory that placed Luine per manently in the Republican column.

Following in natural sequence are given many of the most powerful and inpressive spreaches delivered by Mr. Blane in the midst of, and as a prominent actor in the great events that make up the record of the pregnant years covered by this volume -from the nomination of Fremont to the campuign of 1886.

It is safe to say that within the covers of this volume of 525 pages may be found the most brilliant and powerful public utterances of the period named, many of them having excited the admiration of people of all shades of political thought in this country and Europe. They range over nearly every important toric of govmental affairs, and on each Hr. Blaine is found to have said the right thing at the right time and in the most at iking and effective way, whether discussing the War Power of Congress in the Maine Legisleture in 1862, championing Protection to American Industry on the floor of Congress or making in 1886 what is acknowledged on both sides of the ocean to have been the clearest and ablest statement of the Irish Question that has evel been pre-

The volume appropriately closes with that masterpiece of analysis and cloquence, the unapproachable eulogy of the martyred GARFIELD by his associate for twenty years in Congress, his Secretary of State and his affectionate personal friel d.
